

Get Involved

Are you interested in Engineers Without Borders and thinking of getting involved, but are not sure what avenues are available for helping out? EWB offers many opportunities for individuals to get involved. The following is just a sampling of the numerous ways you can bring your talents to the organization. Please contact one of our officers and consider attending our next meeting to get involved!

Mentor Provide guidance on student chapter projects using your expertise Travel along with a student chapter mentor to one of their projects Southern Illinois University Edwardsville Washington University U – Columbia Missouri University of Science & Technology Honduras Project Wat design Sanitation planning and design Construction estimating and scheduling Prepare engineer planning, post-trip summary reports Travel on assessment and implementation trips Coordinate v Coordinate with Rotary Water quality testing Construction observation Regional level committee to review/approve various chapters’ projects Conference call once per month experienced engineers of the region Membership Committee Membership Drive Survey new members members to promote involvement Future meetings speakers/events planning Fundraising Committee Trivia planning Happy hour planning Develop EWB branded marketing/promotional materials Present c events and other professional organization meetings Identify potential funding sources Grant applications volunteer for events

EWB Executive Committee